What involvement have you had with extracurricular clubs and teams over the past two years that demonstrate your leadership and your passion for social justice? Please describe your roles and responsibilities in these activities.

Please describe your involvement with any community organizations that work towards advocating for equity and social justice. What roles and responsibilities did you have?

Peter Kormos was a lifelong advocate for social justice, workers' rights, and ethical leadership. He stood for fairness, equity, and speaking up for others—especially those whose voices were often overlooked.

Why are leadership and social justice important to you, and how do you see these values reflected in Peter Kormos' legacy? In your response, include specific examples from your own life where you have demonstrated leadership or advocated for fairness, inclusion, or positive change in your school, or community.
